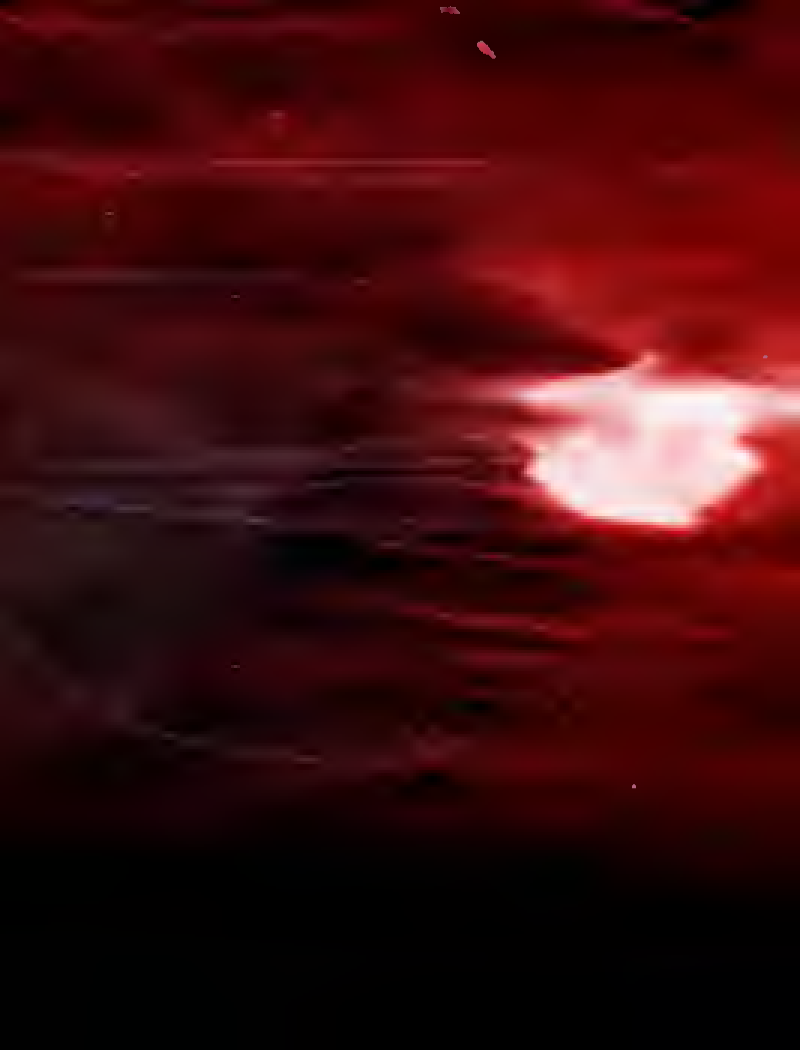
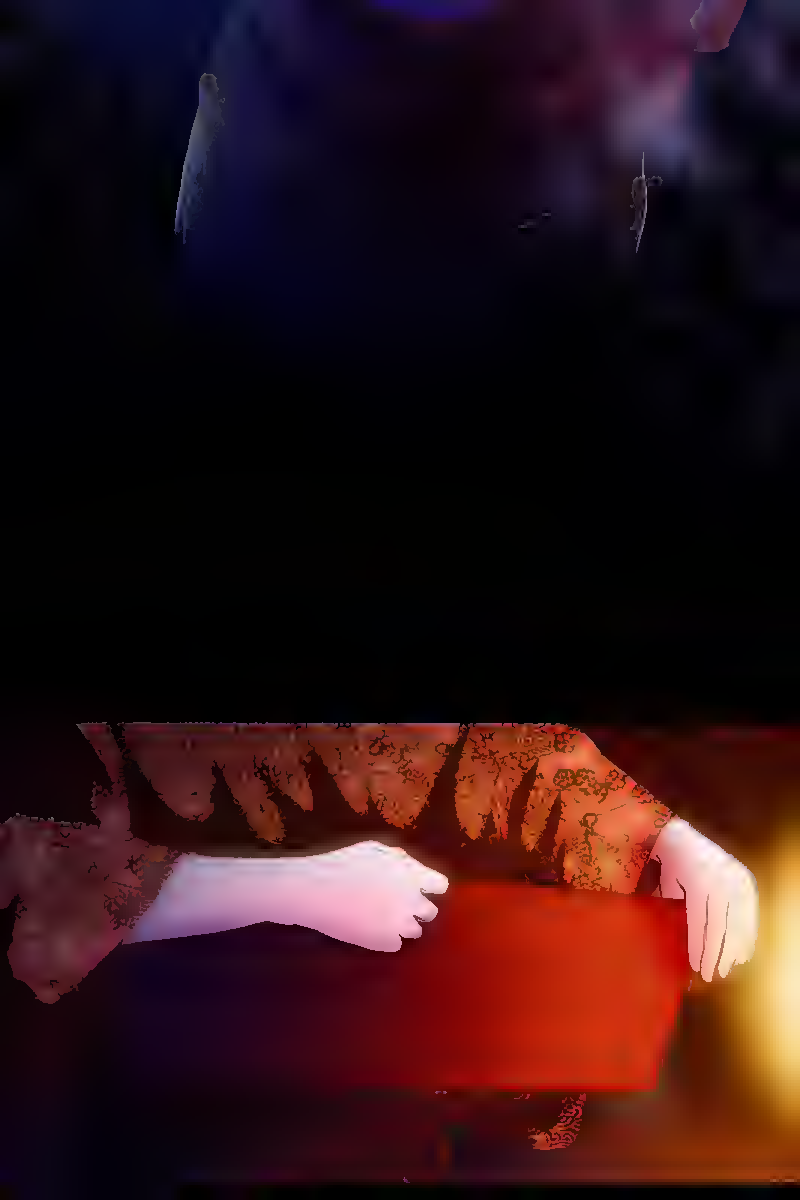
Please have your sound on for this chapter

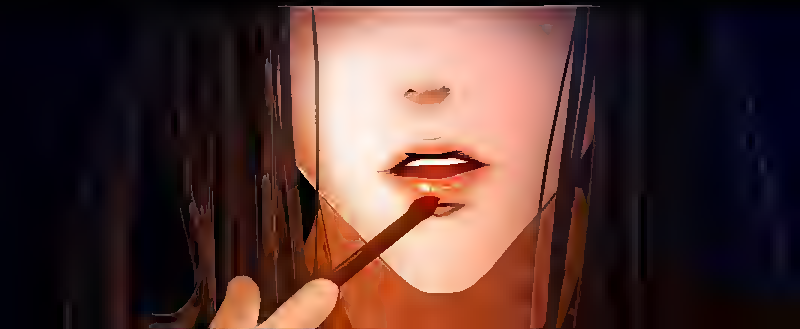


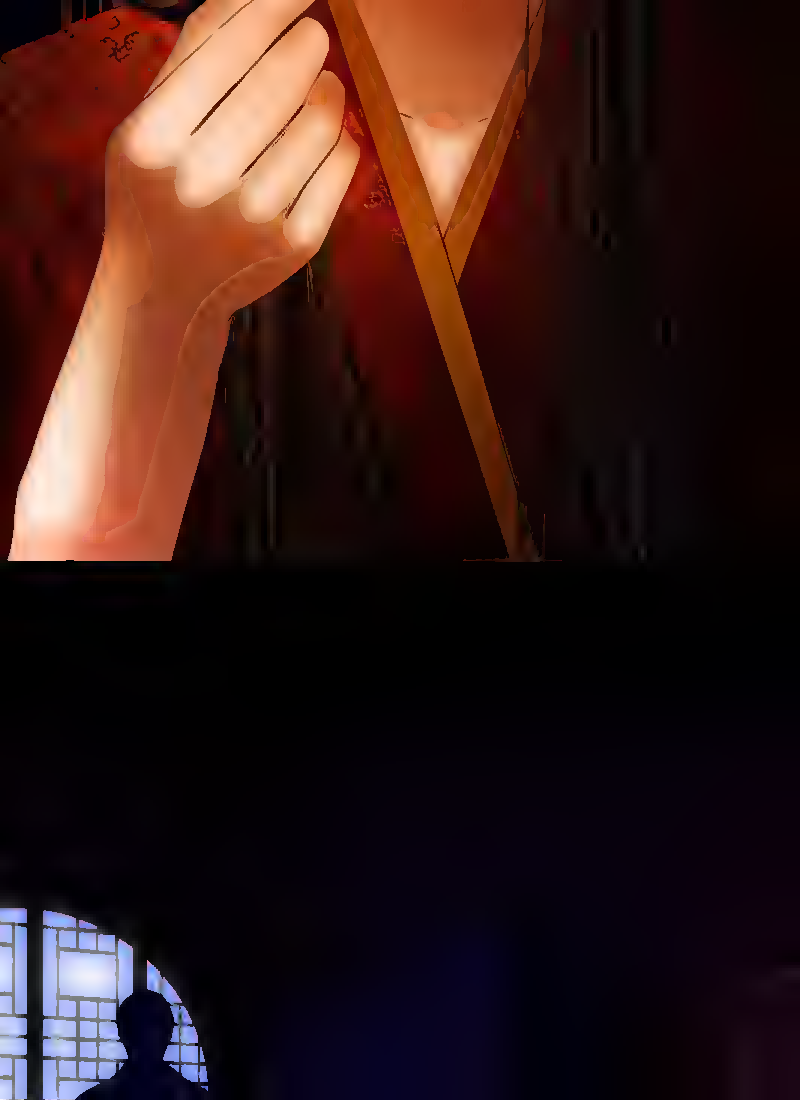
They say you're a monster...

...and that might be true.



You paint a fearsome picture of yourself.





You guard yourself in deceit...

I've watched you surround yourself in your lies.

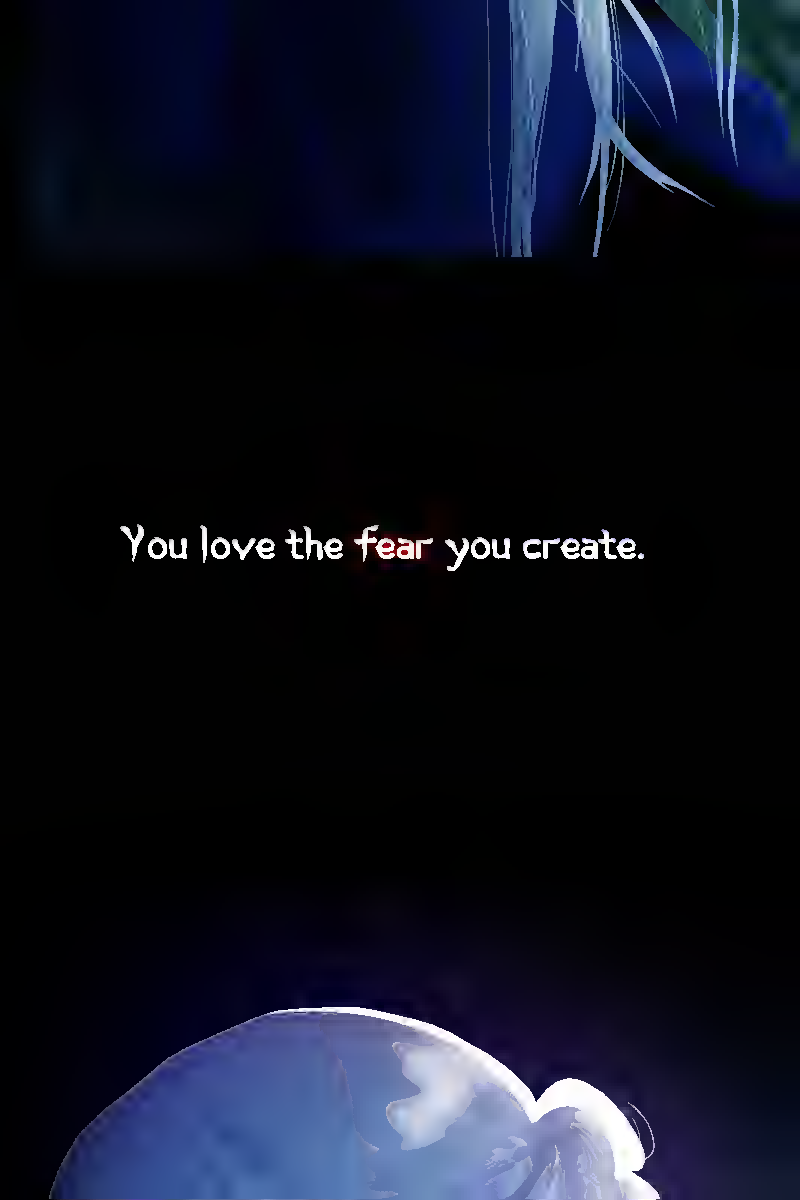
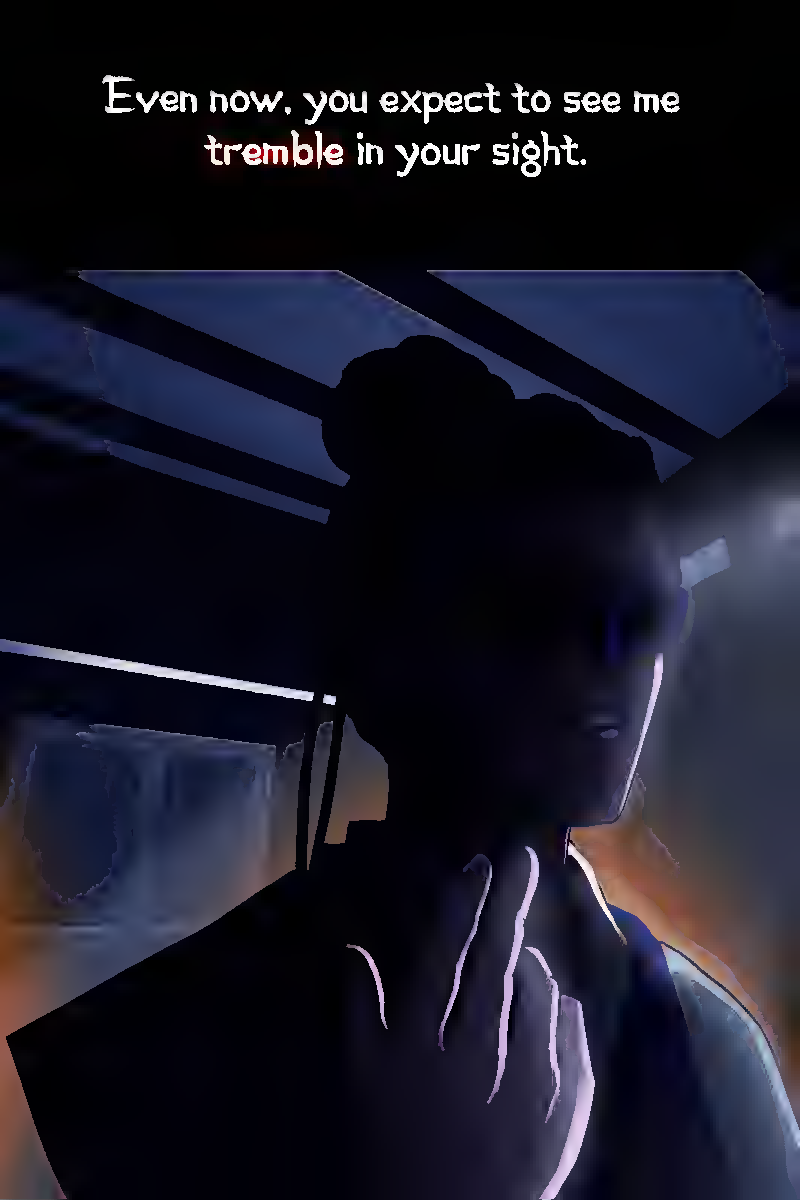
You believe them, don't you?

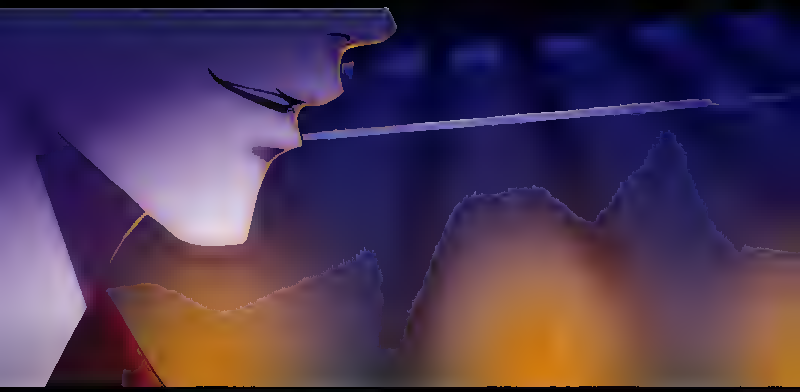


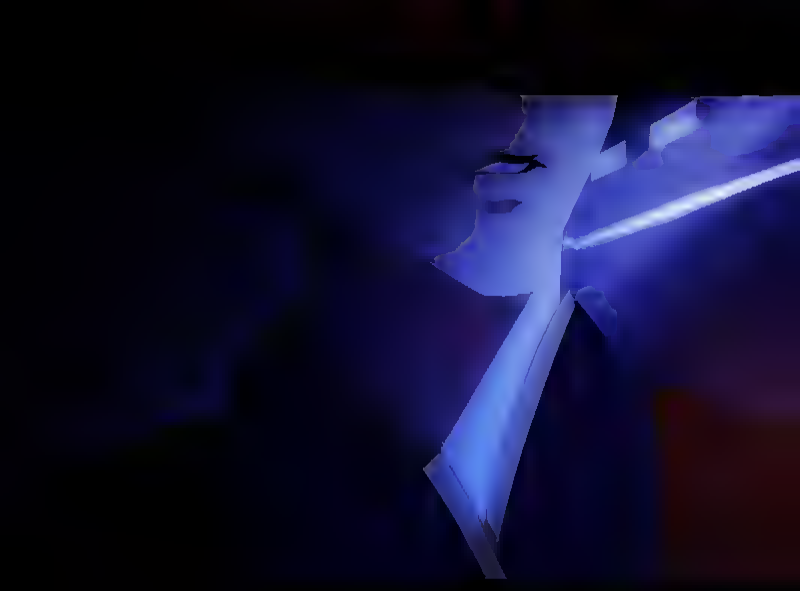
You love the fear you create.

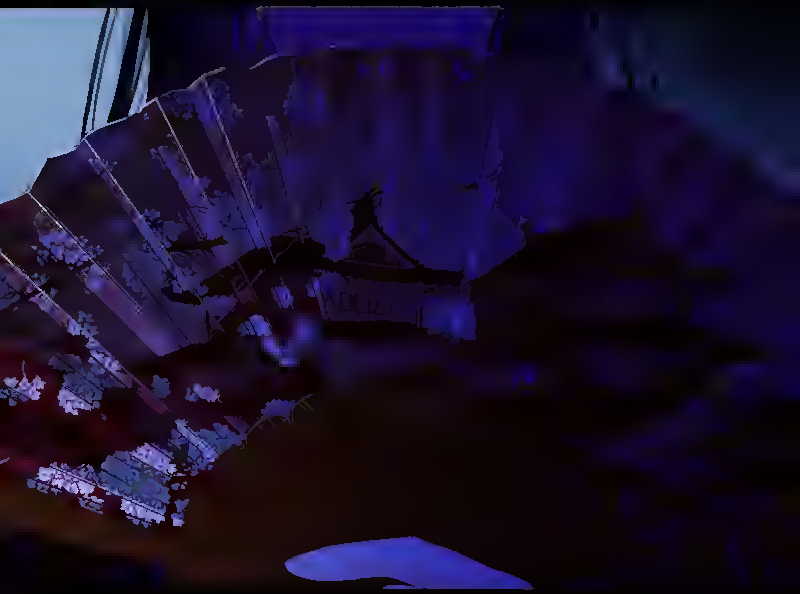


Even now, you expect to see me
tremble in your sight.

I know I should be afraid.







But... fear won't stop me from seeing through your mask.
